PROFILE

Currently I am studying Building Engineering. Before starting my degree, I completed two training courses, each of two years (vocational training in construction and welding). This experience has allowed me to gain comprehensive expertise in the field of industrial manufacturing, as well as in the building sector.

I consider myself to be a responsible, proactive and well-organized person. With strong analytical skills and an ability to find solutions, I have a great capacity to resolve conflicts. I am able to incorporate myself into a company with ease, on both personal and professional levels. Delivery of project objectives, in terms of cost and quality, has always been paramount for me. I am a firm believer in life-long learning.
